Protection Demanded By Officials

20,000 Demonstrate In Moscow, Break Through Police Lines

MOSCOW — (UPI) — Russian demonstrators shouting "get out of Lebanon" surged through police lines guarding the U.S. Embassy today and threw inkwells and stones through the embassy windows.

The embassy telephoned the Soviet Foreign Office and demanded protection.

Twenty windows were broken and the walls were spattered with ink.

IN A NEARBY square, another throng of Muscovites estimated at 50,000 to 100,000 massed at a rally denouncing Anglo-American intervention in the Middle East.

Still other demonstrations broke out in front of the British Embassy.

At the U. S. Embassy, three lines of police battled with the surging mob which waved banners and kept up a continuous chant of "Get out of Lebanon," "Shame on America" and "Agressors go home."

ARMY TROOPS were rushed to the building to help police.

Demonstrators at the British Embassy carried placards with slogans 'Hands off Jordan,' "Hands off the Arab countries" and "We demand the withdrawal of British troops from Jordan."

In East Berlin, Communist mobs tore down the American and British flags at the U.S. and British Military Liaison Mission offices and threw stones at the U.S. building and vehicles parked around it.

THE CITY SEEMED alive with Muscovites who thronged to Vostaniye uprising Square to hear speakers, including factory hands and a dairy maid, denounce the U. S. and Britain.

United Press International correspondent Colette Blackmoore reported from the scene:

"The whole street as far as I can see is a sea of people and a forest of slogans."

Nothing of the kind has been seen in Moscow before.

AN ESTIMATED 15,000 to 20,000 persons jammed the street in front of the U.S. Embassy. Police struggled to fend the people off and finally pushed the crowd back across the street.

In front of the embassy the demonstrators sailed paper disks into the air and threw sticks, stones and bottles of ink at the 10-story building.

Some of the missiles reached as high as the ninth floor, indicating sling shots and air guns were used.

IN THE SQUARE, the crowd roared its approval as Soviet Peace Committee member Kairov boomed over loudspeakers denunciation of the Anglo American "aggressors."

Earlier in the day, U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and British Ambassador Sir Patrick Reilly received Communist demonstrators with petitions and then readied their quarters for the big demonstration.

The gates of the U. S. Embassy were locked and nobody was permitted to leave or enter. U. S.

SCREAMS BRING EXTRA STRENGTH NEEDED FOR RESCUE

ANGIER, N. C. (UPI)—A critically injured flier owed his life today to a farmer who found strength he did not know he possessed.

Joseph P. Parkerson, 33, of Okeechobee, Fla., was critically burned Thursday when his crop-dusting plane crashed on the farm of Sexton Ennis. Ennis attempted to pull Parkerson from the flaming wreckage but gave up his effort.

As he turned away from the wreckage, he heard Parkerson scream.

"I turned around and went back and pulled him up," Ennis said. "I don't know how I did it. The Lord must have helped me."

Just as Ennis dragged Parkerson away from the plane, the fuel tank exploded. Ennis lay Parkerson in the moist earth and stripped off his burning clothing.

"He didn't say anything except ask that I take off his shoes," Ennis said.

Ennis said that when he first tried to rescue Parkerson he was driven back by the smoke and flames.

"I told him 'Mister, I can't help you'," Ennis said. "I walked away. Then I heard him scream 'Oh, Lord,' and I went back and got him out."

Nasser-Khrushchev Hold Secret Talks In Moscow; U. S. Issues Warning to Arabs

11 New Police Building Bids Are Received

Lowest Figure Is Submitted by Press Construction

City officials today hopefully marked Aug. 1 as the starting date for construction of the new Palm Springs police building as 11 firms submitted bids for the building contract.

Low bidder for the "Civic Center" project adjacent to the airport was Press Construction Company, which offered a figure of $302,330.

THE FIGURE came in $16,000 below Architect John Clark's original estimate. It does not include four building alternates, which, together with furnishings, would bring the total building cost well within the $363,635 budgeted by the city.

City Council members are expected to study the bids at their informal luncheon meeting Monday. Clark said the contract award will probably take place at the regular council meeting Wednesday night.

With construction tentatively scheduled to start Aug. 1, the building is earmarked for completion by June 1, 1959.

LOCATED DIRECTLY across from the new City Hall on McCallum Way, the police building will be the second major edifice in the Palm Springs "Civic Center."

Designed by Clark to house police activities and meet expansion for the next 25 years, the new edifice has 14,000 square feet of usable space and is planned to house a force of up to 60 men.

HIGHEST BID FOR the new building was $351,960, received from the Meredith and Simpson Construction Company, of Indio. Associated Builders was the only other Palm Springs firm to submit a bid.

Associated was about midway in the list of bidders with $332,898.

Acceptance of all four alternates could add about $4,000 to the total construction cost, using figure based on the Press bid.

ALTERNATES INCLUDE a sidewalk connecting the police building with City Hall, costing (in the Press bid) $1,084 substitution of terrazo for concrete in entrance way walks, $3,600, and substitution of vinyl - asbestos tile for asphalt tile in building flooring, $1,018.

UN Expected To Reject Resolutions

Russian Veto Of U. S. Proposal Is Anticipated

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. —(UPI) —The hopelessly divided U. N. Security Council appeared certain today to reject rival American and Soviet resolutions praising and condemning Anglo-American intervention in the Middle East.

Failure of the veto - strapped 11-member council to agree on either resolution was likely to send the crisis to the 82-member General Assembly while leaving American and British armed forces on emergency duty in Lebanon and Jordan.

THE SOVIET resolution demands immediate withdrawal of U. S. Marines from Lebanon and British paratroopers from Jordan.

The American resolution calls for creation of a U. N. police force to take over from the Allied troops who answered calls for help from the embattled governments.

Diplomats agreed the Soviet resolution would fall short of the required seven votes and that Russia would cast its 84th veto against the American resolution.

THE RUSSIANS were set to demand an immediate emergency session of the assembly if its "get out now" resolution is not approved.

U. S. sources said they would "be pleased" to have the American resolution go before "an assembly." They added, "We think we have the votes. We have a good resolution."

The careful use of 'an" assembly underlined the possibility that Washington was willing to wait until the regular assembly convenes Sept. 16 rather than help call together an emergency assembly session with 24 hours notice.

Russians Test Coastal Batteries

TOKYO — (UPI) — What was believed to be the heaviest Soviet cannonading in the Kuriles north of Japan since World War II thundered over the Notsuke Straits for more than 12 hours Thursday.

The firing, apparently rom Soviet coastal batteries on the islands of the South Kuriles out toward the sea, started around 10:50 a. m. Thursday and continued until midnight, dispatches from Kokkaido said.

FIRST SUMMER ORCHESTRA dance for the Palm Springs Youth Center was planned this week by the Junior Youth Coordinating Council, which is sponsoring its first Youth Center dance tonight. Dancing starts at 8 p. m. for high school and junior high school students. Admission fee for the dance in the big, refrigeration-cooled Center recreation hall is 50 cents for stags and 75 cents for couples. Council members discussing dance plans are, left to right, Mike Kraft, Youth Center; Barbara Rechtin, Community Church; Jeffery Smith, Coordinating Council; Julie Lance, Sigma Phi Omicron, secretary; Wilen Anderson, DeMolay; Mary Lindenstein, Sigma Phi Lambda; Bones Jones, Youth Center, and Don Burke, Community Church. National GOP Group Supports John Babbage

National Republican Congressional Committee Chairman Richard M. Simpson last night announced the "full support and backing" of his committee for the campaign of Congressional Candidate John Babbage.

Simpson's support was pledged in a telegram from Washington, D. C., sent to A. B. Miller, of Hemet, recently elected chairman of the Riverside County Republican Central Committee.

MILLER READ the wire to committee members at their monthly meeting in Riverside last night.

Simpson assured the committee campaigning for election of Babbage in November that "your efforts have the full support and backing of the National Republican Congressional Committee."

"You will be proud of the result when 'Congressman Babbage' is sent to Washington in November," Simpson wrote.

AFTER READING the telegram, Miller added the remark that "through leadership such as that offered by Warren Slaughter (Palm Springs attorney), not only John Babbage, but all Republican condidates will receive powerful support from this county."

The county, Miller asserted, "will be put back into the Republican column in November."

$500,000 Apartment Project Planned at Palm Desert

PALM DESERT — Plans for construction of a $500,000, 56-unit rental apartment project here were announced today by Tom Cathcart, Palm Desert builder.

Cathcart said work "will start immediately" on the first $250,000 unit of the development, located on the recently subdivided Hermosa Sands property on Santa Rosa Way, near Portola.

SCHEDULED FOR immediate construction — groundbreaking is to begin today — are 14 single bedroom apartments, first half of the 28 apartments planned for Unit I of the project.

Cathcart expects to complete the first unit by late October. Work will start next year on the second unit of 28 apartments, also valued at about $250,000. These will be two-bedroom dwellings.

THE PALM DESERT contractor said the project is designed for year-around tenants "desiring a moderately priced rental on a lease basis."

Present plans indicate that the units will be offered unfurnished with stoves and refrigerators as options. Each apartment contains 600 square feet of living space and has its own fenced yard and patio.

ALL UNITS WILL be fully insulated and refrigerated, Cathcart said. The completed project will feature two swimming pools and full landscaping.

"I believe the project will help meet the apparent need, in this community, for accommodations for gracious desert living at reasonable rates," Cathcart said.

Firemen Answer 15 Calls During Week, Nine Are Fires

Palm Springs firemen responded to 15 calls during the past week, scrambling to answer nine fire calls, four "smoke checks" and two resuscitator calls.

Noting that calls for the week ranged from brush and dwelling fires to a smoking washing machine, the fire department log succinctly noted such items as:

"JULY 5, HOTEL room fire; cause: short in electric wire to lamp. Damage, $2,000.

"July 7, car fire. Cause: occupant used match to see where gas fumes were coming from. Damage, $3,000."

The shortest report, for the simplest call, a smoke check answered during the week, stated: "Washing machine motor smoking. Plug removed."

OF THE NINE fires handled by the department, four were grass and brush fires while three were marked as car fires.

Fire officials pointed out that heavy, dry growth on vacant areas throughout the city is currently creating a "particular fire hazard."

Fire officials also stressed the point that grass fires can cause extensive damage to nearby buildings and cautioned property owners to clear their vacant lands of all excessive growth for maximum fire prevention.

ARMY COLONEL DOESN'T HAVE BACKSEAT DRIVER

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Col. Robert B. Collins is one man who doesn't have a backseat driver —in fact, his wife is pretty silent these days.

The Connally Air Force Base commander slipped up on his "check list" Thursday before returning to Waco, Tex., from a Dallas shopping tour with his family.

He left his wife in a service station thinking she was asleep in the back seat of their auto.

About 50 miles out of Dallas the Colonel heard a radio appeal over a Dallas station. The appeal told about a man who had driven off and left his wife stranded.

Collins took a quick look in the back seat and immediately reversed course.

All-Out Search Under Way for Lost Children

ASH LAKE, Minn. — (UPI) — An all-out effort was made today to find two children lost in Northern Minnesota's bear-infested, marshy wilderness after Sheriff Ray McDermott warned more than 100 volunteers that "we have got to find them today."

Otherwise, he said, as the national guardsmen and civilians set out to criss-cross the woodland by ground and air, "there probably won't be much use looking anymore."

The missing children, Francine Crego, 10, and her brother, Michael, 8, were last seen Wednesday afternoon when they left their grandfather's summer home here to pick berries. Their 7-month-old cocker spaniel tagged along.

The children were lightly clothed.

Searchers kept a lookout during the night beside huge bonfires. They hoped the children might sight the fires.

Costa Rica Set As Next Stop

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras — (UPI) — Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower leaves by plane today for Costa Rica, third stop on his good-will study mission to Central America.

He and his team of financial and economic experts met twice with President Ramon Villeda Morales and his aides during his two-day stay in Honduras.

U.S., Britain Increase Strength

Nasser Rushed To Moscow After Landing of Troops

BEIRUT, Lebanon — (UPI) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser hurried to Moscow for eight hours of secret strategy conferences with Premier Nikita Khrushchev immediately after learning of U. S. Marine landings in Lebanon, Cairo and Damascus radios disclosed today.

Meanwhile, U. S. Marines in Lebanon increased their strength to more than 6,000 men in a massive reply to Russia's ultimatum to "get out" of the troubled Middle East.

GLOBAL ASPECTS of the developing struggle between the Nasser-Communist camp on the one hand and U. S.-led western nations on the other were assuming proportions equal to or overshadowing military developments in Lebanon or in Jordan where British paratroops arrived Thursday.

Communist powers were shipping their people into furious demonstrators against both the U. S. and Britain.

Apparently the U. S. moved swiftly to counter the Khrushchev-Nasser meetings which extended through Wednesday.

U.A.R. AMBASSADOR Omar Loutfi told the U.N. Security Council in New York today that a U.S. note delivered in Cairo this morning warned Nasser that any attack by United Arab Republic troops on U.S. forces in Lebanon would have consequences of "dangerous proportion."

The note said the landing of American troops was designed to uphold the independence of Lebanon and protect U. S. nationals. Loutfi told the council, adding that it also expressed Washington's desire to withdraw the orces as soon as possible...

IN THE SWIRL ofo ther developments, official sources in New Delhi reported that Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today personally requested the U. S. to withdraw from Lebanon. The request was made in a message to President Eisenhower handed to the U.S. Ambassador in New Delhi, the sources said.

It also was disclosed that Premier Amintore Fanfani of Italy had sent "urgent" personal messages to Eisenhower and to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Their contents were not disclosed.

Goldfine Dismissed

Investigators Now Check New Adams Influence Case

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The investigation of Bernard Goldfine took a breather today and a second set of investigators went to work on a military contract case involving Goldfine's White House friend, Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams.

Goldfine, whose gifts to Adams and other officials have received nearly as much publicity as the Yuletide works of Santa Claus, moved out of the spotlight — at least temporarily — when the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight dismissed him Thursday after eight days of testimony.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE is expected to issue a contempt citation against Goldfine for his refusal to answer questions about his business activities, although it may not come immediately.

The Boston millionaire departed with a new charge of "smear" against the subcommittee and a complaint that its inquiry has hurt his textile and other interests.

EVEN AS GOLDFINE left the center of the stage, however, a House armed services subcommittee moved in for a searching inquiry into the controversial refund of an Army textile contract in which Adams' name was reported to have figured. Goldfine was not involved.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) of the military group said no formal decision had been made on whether to hold public hearings but signs pointed to public hearings in a week or two.

THE NEW CASE, turned up by the subcommittee that questioned Goldfine, involves the 1957 refund of $41,284 of a penalty that had been assessed during World War II against Raylaine Worsted, Inc., a New Hampshire firm, for failing to deliver cloth to the Army on time.

Sources on Capitol Hill said Adams, and other officials, including at least three congressmen, expressed an interest in the case in 1957 when it was revived after lying dormant 15 years.

The White House said Adams referred inquiries about the refund to the Pentagon "as a matter of routine."

Compromise Proposed

Senate to Start Voting on Reciprocal Trade Program

WASHINGTON — (UPI)— Senate leaders hoped voting would begin today on major amendments to the House-passed bill extending the reciprocal trade program.

Backers of the bill believed they were set to defeat the first amendment up for a vote—a compromise move they fear would cripple President Eisenhower's power to cut tariffs.

SEN. FREDERICK Payne (R-Maine) introduced the compromise which would fall halfway between the House proviso and a Senate Finance Committee recommendation on presidential tariff authority.

The House bill states that a presidential rejection of a Tariff Commission recommendation granting relief to a domestic industry shall stand unless overruled by a two-thirds vote of both houses of Congress.

THE FINANCE committee turned this around and recommended that a commission ruling would stand unless a presidential rejection was sustained by a majority of both houses.

Payne's amendment would keep the House proviso but dilute it so that the President's ruling could be overturned by a simple majority of both houses.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson and GOP leader William F. Knowland were seeking to kill the finance committee amendment and thereby restore the House language.

SECRETARY OF State John Foster Dulles, meantime, prepared to go before the Senate Appropriations Committee this afternoon to do battle for another key feature of administration foreign policy.

Dulles was expected to urge the committee, at a closed-door hearing, to restore $597,500,000 cut by the House from an appropriation for the foreign aid program.

Both houses have appoved a $1,675,592,500 authorization ceiling for foreign aid. But when it came to voting for actual funds, the House would go only as high as $3,078,092,500.

'Fool-Proof Age Regulation For Miss Universe Isn't'

LONG BEACH, Cali. — (UPI) — The "fool-proof" system to assure contestants in the 1958 Miss Universe Beauty Pageant would be old enough has developed its first clinker.

A planeload of scores of foreign and domestic beauties hardly had arrived at Long Beach Municipal Airport Thursday before the first trouble developed.

PRETTY EUGENIA Maria Valverde, 17, selected as Miss Costa Rica, tearfully disclosed that she was "too young." She discovered it after arriving here for the pageant which opens officially Saturday night.

Miss Valverde's announcement avoided a possible mix-up which marked last year's contest when Miss Universe, Gladys Zender of Peru, turned out to be 17.

OFFICIALS OF the beauty congress were saved on a technicality. In Peru, it seems a girl is considered to be 18 even though she hasn't reached that birthday yet.

Oscar Meinhardt, director of the pageant, installed a "fool-proof system" to assure the eligibility of contestants this year. To be qualified, he ruled, a girl must have been born on or before July 1, 1940.

Unfortunately, Miss Valverde said she did not read the entry rules until she arrived here. She broke into tears when she told Meinhardt:

"I AM SORRY, but I can not compete. I am too young. I was born on Oct. 8, 1940, and your rules say July 1."

Meinhardt blamed the beauty's sponsor and said:

"It's not your fault. The blame must be on your sponsor, who should have known. You are to be praised for your honesty—you are a credit to your country."

The 35 foreign and 45 domestic lovelies competing for fame and fortune in the pageant were fitted for bathing suits Thursday after the arrival of the majority of the contestants.

1 iKlled, 9 Injured In 3-Car Collision Near El Centro

EL CENTRO — (UPI) — A young mother was killed and her husband and 18-month-old daughter were injured seriously Thursday in a three-car collision that injured seven other persons.

The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Bernard Brooks, 20, New York. Her husband, about 30, suffered a skull fracture and severe burns and was hospitalized along with his daughter, who suffered critical burns.

Witnesses said a car driven by Donald Flagg, 24, Yuma, Ariz., rammed into the rear of the Brooks car on U.S. Highway 80 about 30 miles east of here. They said the Brooks vehicle then careened into an oncoming vehicle, driven by Eduardo C. Vallagas, 46.

The district attorney here issued a complaint charging Flagg with misdemeanor manslaughter, gross negligence and drunk driving.

Board Alters Thermal Airport Lessee Lease

The Board of Supervisors authorized a change this week in the county's lease to Ramon L. Soto for buildings at Thermal Airport for housing and feeding of agricultural workers.

The $450 per month rental fee will be reduced to a minimum of $225 per month with provision for increases to $450 depending on the amount of space used.

Airports Director Joe Marriottt said he believes that in view of the fluctuation in the number of agricultural workers to be housed and fed it is not fair to require payment of rental on buildings not in use.

Board Orders Preparation of New Dance Law

Ted Hannah, who owns and operates Club Eden Springs on the Jack Rabbit Trail a mile north of Highway 79, asked the Board of Supervisors this week to re-write the section of the county's dance licensing ordinance which makes it unlawful to conduct a dance on Sunday or between the hours of 1 a.m. and 6 p.m. to make it conform with the City of Riverside dance licensing law which allows dancing until 2 a.m.

Hannah said that under the present law he has to stop dancing at his club at midnight Saturday with the result that his customers are apt to leave for a place where they can dance for the additional two hours.

The City of Riverside law, observed Hannah, conforms to the state liquor law governing hours for the sale of alcoholic beverages.

Hannah, former county airports director, applied for and received a liquor license for his club about four months ago.

The Board of Supervisors voted four to one, with Supervisor Paul Anderson dissenting, to instruct county counsel to prepare for their consideration an ordinance in compliance with Hannah's request.

Whtney's Market Purchased by Downey Couple

CATHEDRAL CITY — Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Crocket, formerly of Downey, have taken over ownership and operation of Whitney's Market, at 68-791 Broadway.

The Whitneys, who will operate the store with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine M. Henderson, purchased the market from Mr. and Mrs. James Whitney.

The market was opened 11 years ago by Alfred F. Patane and was known as "Al's Market" until it was sold to the Whitneys three years ago.

Crocket was previously associated with the Downey Union High School District. The Hendersons came to Cathedral City from Bellflower, where Henderson was associated with a wholesale grocery company.

The Hendersons have two children, Cindy and Ronnie.

The Crockets' son, Bob, and his wife, Sherry, together with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Powell, recently purchased the grocery department of the Food Box store here.

Blythe to Have Fertilizer Plant

Herbert C. Browning of Blythe was granted a permit by the Board of Supervisors this week to establish and operate a liquid fertilizer mixing and blending plant on the south side of Highway 60 (Hobsonway West) west of Carlton Way at the western city limits of the desert city.

Granting of the permit was recommended by the county planning commission.

Hearing Set For Sandpiper Zone Change

A hearing was set by the Board of Supervisors this week for Aug. 11 at 10 a.m. on a petition for a change of zone for property on the south side of Highway 111 in the Palm Desert area to be used in connection with construction of a $6,000,000 development of a luxury own-your-own garden type apartment.

The apartment will consist of approximately 300 units, 15 swimming pools, six tennis courts, children's play area, and putting greens. It will be known, according to the petitioners, Howard F. Ahmanson of Los Angeles and K. D. Childs of Beverly Hills, as the "Sandpiper."

The area is now zoned R-1 (single family residential) and W-2 (watershed, conservation and recreation) and the petitioners ask a change to R-3 (general residential) to permit the proposed apartment development. The planning commission approves the zone change.

Boundaries of the property are as follows: on the south, Pitahaya Street and the north boundary of Palm Desert Unit No. 9; on the west, Coachella Valley County Water District flood control channel; on the north, a parallel line 250 feet south of Highway 111, and also El Paseo; and on the east, a parallel line 490 feet west of Highway 74 (Palms to Pines highway).

La Quinta Road Abandonment Given Approval

Abandonment of Morgan Road (49th Avenue) and a portion of Avenida Serra in the La Quinta area was approved by the Board of Supervisors this week to make way for the La Quinta Hotel's 18-hole golf course after Planning Director Tyler Suess told them that the only opposition had come through misunderstanding. He said everyone is now agreeable to the proposal.

The board's approval is with the understanding that the present road will not be abandoned until an alternate route is provided, and improved without cost to the county. The alternate route will be a continuation of the existing Avenida Serra and will bear the same name.

Erasing Conscience

BEDFORD, Ind. — (UP) — Elementary school principal Lee Hutchinson received a dollar bill from a woman in Lexington, Ky., who wrote she had taken a blackboard eraser when a first or second-grader in the school. To help clear the woman's conscience Hutchinson said he would buy another eraser with the money.

Youth Confesses Bomb Hoax, 'Did It for Kicks'

DALLAS, Tex. — (UPI) — A 19-year-old Dallas youth confessed early this morning he called American Airlines officials "for kicks" and told them a bomb was aboard one of their planes.

"I did it, but I don't know why," Robert William Keith told Dallas police.

THE HOAX RESULTED in the grounding of all flights from Dallas' Love Field and Amon Carter Field in Fort Worth while FBI agents, police and sheriff's deputies investigated and searched for the bomb and traced the telephoned warning.

Lt. R. L. May, of the Dallas police department said that Keith broke down under questioning and said "I did it for kicks." The youth was taken to Dallas police headquarters.

MAY SAID KEITH was arrested at his home in University Park at 3:45 a.m. c.s.t. He said the youth placed his call at 3:06.

'Our First Man in Space'

Science Expert Describes Final Plans Before Flight

Capt. James T. Randall, USAF, our composite of the man who will make America's first manned flight into space, is more then an engineering test pilot.

He is a qualified aeronautical engineer and is assigned as the X-15 Project Officer. Thus from the early days of its inception, Randall has been a part of the closely - knit engineering and flight team that made the rocket-powered X-15 possible.

THE GIANT research machine has actually been more than 10 years in design and construction.

The outgrowth of design philosophies of the Air Force, Navy, NACA, (National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics), and the North American Co., it was created specifically to solve problems of hypersonic flight, which is five times and greater the speed of sound.

THE X-15 WAS designed to fly in regions where friction with the atmosphere is so severe that the airplane at top speed will glow a rich red from heat.

Strange shock waves batter at the machine, hammering in steel-like blows at wings and controls. And in the fleeting moments so high above the earth, regular controls are useless. Pilots use reaction controls — jet nozzles — to maneuver.

BECAUSE IT WAS designed to fly under space conditons, the X-15 was easily modified for Randall's flight. Long before Randall saw the completed X-15, he knew every inch of its cabin. He "flew" for hundreds of hours in an authentic reproduction of the cabin.

While engineers fed varying flight conditions to him via his instruments, he was required to wrest the X-15 from dangerous moments in his "space flights."

THE NET RESULT was that with his eyes closed, he knew every single control and knob, and could fly the X-15 without visual reference to his controls.

He watched special ejection seat tests with an X-15 nose section on the rocket sled track at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. Speeding down the track at more than 1,400 MPH, dummies of Randall's exact size and weight were blasted free of the nose section.

THESE TESTS validated the design and flight stability of the special X-15 ejection seat, for bailing out at even 900 MPH in a normal seat would tear Randall to pieces.

Randall, as he awaits the signal for takeoff into space, isn't thinking much about serious trouble in orbit, or at hypersonic speeds. If something goes wrong then — the flight will simply be marked a failure.

NO ONE BAILS OUT of anything at thousands of miles per hour. There wouldn't be enough left to pick up the pieces with a blotter.

The X-15 has tiny wings. Most of its 60-foot length are fuel tanks to hold the fuel and liquid-oxygen which provide the tremendous power to reach orbiting velocity.

THE 60,000 - POUND thrust rocket gives little indication of its fantastic power. At 18,000 MPH it will generate nearly three million horsepower. That's the same as fifteen thousand Cadillacs each with a 200 horsepower engine, traveling at top speed!

For his first exploratory flights Randall flew the X-15 through bomber drops. A B-52 jet bomber, with the X-15 slung beneath the fuselage and right wing, carried him to 40,000 feet.

THE ROCKET plane was dropped free, and Randall eased forward the throttle. In these test flights he reached speeds of 3,900 MPH and hurtled to more than 100 miles above the earth.

As amazing as this speed is it is but a fraction of what he will need to orbit and, while he reached a great height, he remained there only for brief minutes before plummeting back to dense air.

FINALLY ALL the tests were completed. The X-15 was ready, and Jim Randall had wrapped up all his flight tests. The rocket plane was flown within a giant C-133A turboprop transport to Cape Canaveral, Fla.

From the landing strip it was trucked to the Navaho launching site. There, a fabulous launching system rears into the sky. A control blockhouse sunk two stories into the ground, rising two stories above, straddles a million-pound, massive steel launcher.

BENEATH THE cradle is a great flame pit, a curving blast tube to bend the roaring fire from the X-15's Navaho booster.

The booster is an enormous rocket nearly 90 feet long, thick and massive. It is filled with JP-4 fuel and liquid-oxygen, and from its tail juts the barrels of three mighty rocket motors.

EACH IS MORE than twice as powerful as the X-15's single XLR 99 power-plant. When the command to fire is given, more than 400,000 pounds of shrieking rocket thrust will start Jim Randall on his wild ride into space.

It is difficult to conceive of the truly fantastic energy that Randall will command. More than one engineer has described the flight as a "man on a volcano."

JIM RANDALL will be alone in space when—and if—he orbits successfully. But he will never be, he knows, really out of touch.

Thousands of men at Cape Canaveral and all through the 5,000 mile Missile Test Range, at control consoles, radar sites, optical stations, and data receiving stations, will be following his every move.

Around the entire globe, a technological army will watch closely as the first spaceman hurtles around the planet.

NOW, THE PREPARATIONS are complete. It is early morning, hours before dawn. Randall has climbed into the X-15 cabin.

Technicians have adjusted his straps, assisted him into his helmet. The area has been cleared. The fueled Navaho booster and the X-15 are in vertical launch position. The countdown for the firing is in progress.

In seconds Captain James T. Randall, USAF, will reach his moment with destiny!

"GOOD LUCK, ED," says Ben Cowan, left, as he waves goodbye to Ed Chapman, new owner of Palm Springs Ford dealers. Cowan, veteran Palm Springs auto dealer, this week sold his Village Ford dealership to Chapman, former truck sales manager for the Ford West Coast Division. Cowan will continue to operate his Indio Ford agency. (Desert Sun Photo).

Church Playground Is Given Assessed Value Reduction

Sitting in its second of three sessions as a Board of Equalization for 1958, the Board of Supervisors voted four to one this week to reduce the assessed valuation of the First Church of God in Riverside to zero. Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain voted against the reduction.

The church property's assessed valuation of $15,100 had already been given exemptions totaling $12,280, leaving an assessed valuation of $2,820. The church claimed that the land on which an assessed valuation remained should be exempted because it is used as a children's playground.

ASSESSOR FRANK Burchfield maintained that only church property used for worship can be exempted. Edwin M. Atwood, chairman of the church board of directors, argued that maintaining a playground for children is a means of leading the youngsters to worship, and that the land therefore is being used for worship.

Burchfield expressed doubt of Atwood's interpretation. When Supervisor William Jones made a motion to exempt the remaining $2,820, he suggested that the motion be changed to reduce the assessed valuation to zero. Jones changed his motion accordingly.

ALL OTHER applications heard by the supervisors were denied, including the one on which they postponed action last week pending further review, that of Herman O. Leenerts of Edgemont who claimed his land is flooded and useless. The denial was unanimous, but the supervisors promised to relieve the land of any flooded condition which might be due to any fault of the county in its road construction.

The final session will be held next Monday, July 21. Assessed value protests carried over to next week because no one appeared in person as yet to voice the written claims are those of Frank O. Linden of Hemet, Clayton Hitner of Los Angeles, and George Richter of Banning.

Ben Cowan Sells Ford-Edsel Car Agency Here

Sale of the Ben Cowan Ford-Edsel agency in Palm Springs was announced today by veteran Village car dealer Ben Cowan.

The Ford agency was purchased by Ed Chapman, formerly sales manager for Ford Motor Company's western truck division.

Chapman has already assumed control of operations at the agency, now known as Palm Springs Ford, at 66-359 Highway 111.

IN ANNOUNCING the sale of his long established dealership here, Cowan said he plans to continue operation of his Ford agency at Indio.

Cowan, a Palm Desert resident, opened the Indio dealership in 1945 and started the Village agency in downtown Palm Springs in 1948.

Reason for the sale of the Palm Springs agency, he said, was "the difficulty in meeting the responsibility" of operating dual dealerships.

THE NEW AGENCY owner, active in the auto industry for more than 15 years, is marking his first entry in the auto retailing field. A Ford executive for eight years, Chapman was district truck sales manager for the past four years.

Prior to that, Chapman was a Ford field manager and representative for the Ford sales promotion department. He was active in sales promotion for the Packard Motor Company from 1945 until 1950.

CHAPMAN, A Californian for 35 years, served four years in the Air Force during World War II. He was associated with Packard before his entry into service and is a graduate of the University of Southern California.

Now residing at a Palm Springs hotel, Chapman and his wife, Jane, are searching for a permanent Village home.

3 Supervisors Vote Down Purchase of Church Property

The Board of Supervisors voted three to two this week against purchase of the First United Presbyterian Church across from the county court house at the northeast corner of Orange and 11th in Riverside for $70,000.

Supervisor Paul Anderson joined Supervisor Fred McCall and Supervisor William Jones in opposing the purchase. McCall and Jones had previously indicated opposition, but Anderson's vote was contrary to expectations as he had voted before with Supervisor George Berkey and Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain for purchase of adjoining property.

THE 1957 GRAND Jury recommended purchase of the entire block on the north side of 11th between Orange and Lemon streets, for the purpose of construction of a county building to house some of the county offices. The first step to follow through on this recommendation was the purchase of the Alexander property adjoining the church, for $38,000. This was by a three to two vote with McCall and Jones dissenting.

Supervisor Anderson told reporters following the board session that he could not vote for anything that might prevent maintenance of the present tax rate for the coming fiscal year.

AS IT IS NOW, he said it appears major cuts will have to be made in the preliminary budget, and he predicted that the capital outlay fund from which the church property would be purchased may have to be used for other purposes. He indicated that should this not be necessary he would be willing to reconsider his vote against purchase of the church.

Administrative Officer Robert T. Andersen said the signed offer to sell the church property is good for only 30 days. It was dated July 7. The final budget hearing will not be held until Aug. 18.

Andersen recalled that appraisers employed by the property owners in the 11th street block had appraised the church property at $74,200. The church originally set a price of $80,000. The price was lowered to $70,000 through efforts of the administrative officer.

Blue for Bicycles

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(UPI)—Police Chief Harold F. Kelly has ordered that all owners and riders of unlicensed bicycles be issued blue tags. He says more than 10,000 persons fall in that category and are in violation of a city ordinance. The blue tickets also are a boon to police in identifying owners of stolen or misplaced bicycles. There is no fine.

San Bernardino County to Lose Largest Title

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI) — San Bernardino County today faces the possibility of losing its title of being the largest county in the United States.

The county, which has more than 20,000 square miles, would be dwarfed if Alaska were divided into counties.

There seems to be little doubt that at least one of the 49th state's political subdivisions would exceed San Bernardino County in size.

Currently the territory has four judicial districts. If its 586,400 square miles were split evenly among the four, any one of them would be larger than San Bernardino County.

Momentous Events In Space Race Yet to Come

Recent reports filtering out from behind Russia's iron curtain are to the effect that the three satellites placed into orbit by the Soviets were the result of thirty launching attempts.

If this be true, the 27 Russian failures would amount to a considerably higher percentage of unsuccessful attempts than that experienced up to date in launchings by the United States.

Psychologically, however, the Russians still are in the lead in the space race in several important aspects of influence in world opinion.

In the first place, the American launching failures are well known because of our belief in truthful reporting of the facts, while the Russians manage to maintain strictest secrecy, announcing only such claims as might suit propaganda purposes of the moment.

The Soviets also have the advantage of having been first to place world satellites in orbit and in addition the distinction of propelling much larger ones into outer space.

Looking to the future it appears that the time is fast approaching when the United States will be ready to attempt firing a rocket to the moon, either with the intention of a direct hit on our lunar neighbor or into orbit around it as a moon satellite. The Russians announced such a plan of their own months ago. Should America prove to be first to succeed in this spectacular feat, it would place us far out in front in the field of space penetration by guided missiles.

The ultimate goal is space travel by man. Present experiments all lead in that direction including reports of necessary information from satellite instruments, tests of design, materials and propellants.

Launching of a vehicle suitable for space travel by humans is now considered a certainty in a very few years, the most difficult part of the accomplishment being to provide a means of safe return to earth for the space ship and passengers.

While Russia leads in satellite size, American scientists are believed to be ahead in both distance and design, particularly in the type of vehicle which could be properly controlled for a return to earth.

One thing is now clear. The future of these United States and the world hinges upon the steps now under way to attain space superiority.

We can only hope that America will be the leader and outstanding winner in the momentous events yet to come.

Permanently Dry?

A Paying Audience in Politics

WASHINGTON, D. C. — You begin to hear, as another election approaches, demands for Federally - paid and Federally-controlled campaign expenses.

The demands come, of course, from nitwitted liberals who have no faith in the people to run their own affairs. And, if the weather isn't too hot for a belly laugh, it may be fun to note that a Federally-paid election campaign is no different from a poll tax — except that the latter is voluntary and the former would be a compulsory charge upon the citizen by the State.

THIS DIFFERENCE, of course, is all-important. It is the essential contrast of "You May" vs. "You Must." It is the difference between State paternalism, doling out the exact change of the adolescent's allowance money, and the freedom to go to the fair and spend one's own pennies as fancy pleases.

So maybe the poll tax isn't as bad as our knee-deep thinkers would like us to believe. It still operates in the best - governed States of the South. It could be what the nation needs — and needs for a reason that is peculiar to Americans, if not to any other people.

THE IDEA TAKES shape if you note some familiar audience reactions. The participation of the onlookers at any pay-as-you-enter enterprise is markedly different from that of people attending a political debate or public address.

The reaction of a baseball fan to a butterfingered error or a bonehead play is raucous and forthright. The behavior of an audience when confronted with an absurd or distorted picture of human nature is a little more polite but equally forceful.

YET THE SAME American people in their sophisticated millions go to the polls for free and then watch and listen with no overt disapproval of some of the political performances which would drive a ballplayer or an actor to the tanktowns.

It is a matter that can be illustrated at almost any place in the news. I purposely pass over the bush league performance of the House investigation of Bernard Goldfine and Sherman Adams. The stupidity is so thick and the hypocrisy of the moralizers so sickening that a breath of Canadian air seems relatively refreshing.

STILL, IT IS tempting to speculate how a paying audience would regard the drive-in show which President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles opened in Canada. If the 35.5 million Americans who voted for Ike in 1956 had paid $2.50 apiece at the booths, I wonder what their reaction would have been to his visit to Ottawa, his speech there, the chain of events which he has apparently set in motion.

The President's visit was intended to smooth our relations with Canada. The President's address to a joint session of the Canadian parliament was polite and platitudinous, but it surprised some commentators for being much less apologetic than expected.

HE DID NOT, AS has become the custom, say that we were wrong and the other side right. "The hallmark of freedom," he noted, "is the right to differ . . ." And to some slight extent, although only in generalities, the President of the USA spoke up a little for the interests of the USA.

Any audience with ticket stubs in its pockets would have applauded here. But the same audience, as we all know from observation and experience, would have fetched a groan at what came next. No sooner was the public speaking done than the President and his Secretary of State huddled with the Canadian officials on a subject that bodes no good for our side—the subject of trade with Red China.

THE SITUATION is well known. The American people left thousands of its sons dead, wounded and captive in the Korean War. Our people are emotionally and patriotically opposed to doing anything that would add to the respectability or prosperity of the American-hating government of Communist China. Perhaps this position is not very logical and not very diplomatic, but it is a heart-felt position which is, after all, the kind that ought to count.

Canada feels differently. Like many of our other allies, she trades with Red China in all except "strategic" goods. The question which the President's Ottawa visit opened for consultation was whether we should relax our attitude toward Red China.

THE FIRST STEP would be to allow American automobiles and refrigerators, made in Canada, to be sold in Communist China. But the eventual step — as any alert, pay-as-you-enter audience would sense — is full recognition and acceptance of Red China for her trade - money's sake on the North American continent.

Here, I am saying, is the only excuse whatever for tax-supported election campaigns. Any American who pays such a poll tax has also purchased himself the right to hoot and holler.

It would be fun to hear what a paid audience would say about the unfolding plot to embrace Red China with the brotherly arms of Canada.

Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: I made application for a position in a large office. The man who interviewed me seemed very friendly. He had a big picture of his wife and children on his desk. After a short time, he pulled his chair closer to the side of his desk where I was sitting and pressed his knee to mine. I thought it was just an accident so I moved away, but in a couple of seconds, his knee was next to mine again. After moving my knee about six times, I arose and left. Needless to say the job never materialized. What do you think?

JOBLESS

DEAR JOBLESS: You flunked the "knee test"—your reflexes were too good. Consider yourself lucky. Had you been more cooperative in the knee department, you'd have been up to your neck in trouble. Keep looking.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you can help me as everyone thinks I am an abnormal mother. My daughter married a man without character and without honor. He even refused to take her to the hospital when she had her baby. I knew she couldn't depend on this bum, so I refused to move with my husband to another city when he had a chance for a promotion. Now everyone is down on me because I tried to be a good mother. Who is wrong?

A GOOD MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Sorry, but your first duty is being a good wife. Perhaps if your daughter didn't have you to lean on, she'd make more demands on her husband—and he'd face up.

DEAR ABBY: I won't beat around the bush. I am a man of 24 and I am married to a woman of 46. We've been married three years and I must have been crazy. I fell in love recently with a wonderful girl my own age where I work. She knows I am married but doesn't know how old my wife is and I'm ashamed to tell her. I am all messed up and I can't think of anything but getting rid of my wife and marrying this girl. My wife and I have three kids together and she had two when I married her. Help me, please!

ALL MESSED UP

DEAR MESSED: I don't know how crazy you are, but I can tell you this—you are VERY married! Try to remember what you saw in your wife when you married her. You didn't take her "on approval," Buster.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Why shriek and yell,
You great big lug,
You used to be
A litter bug.

Now, those aren't the words used by the nice woman. But I always like to put complimentary things like that in verse.

YESTERDAY I mentioned litterbugs in this space, first time this year. Before the copy went to the mail chute, she snitched a look at it.

"You're always writing about litterbugs," she started.

(Once in seven months is always?)

"But I remember when you littered Palm Canyon Drive sidewalks from Amado to Arenas and reveled in it."

SO I JUST had to admit it. That was back in the early 40's when The Desert Sun made its appearance once each week.

Before the days of the present modern Sun plant, the paper was written here but the mechanical work was done in Banning.

The paper was printed on a wheezy flat-bed press and then the sheets, four pages to a sheet, were fed into a folder which put them in shape for public consumption and snipped off the top edge.

NOW, IN THIS snipping process, the cutting knife was short about 1/16th of an inch and when the papers went on the newsstands, each one had two little strips at the top, about 16 inches long and an eighth of an inch wide.

When the customers picked their papers off the stands, these strips fell off.

Biggest part of the local circulation then was via newsstand. People preferred to come downtown on press day to pick it up rather than wait for it in the mail next morning.

AND THEREIN comes the reveling part.

About an hour after the first papers had been placed on the stands, I used to enjoy walking down Palm Canyon Drive, looking at all those little strips of paper on the walk.

That meant sales.

I didn't do it. People who bought the papers did. Should have stuffed those little strips in their pants pockets. The men, that is.

THAT BRINGS to mind that unknown man, champion litterbug of all time in Palm Springs.

It was one of those days when the breeze from the north was brisk and purveyors of Los Angeles dailies on the Drive had placed rocks on the papers displayed outside.

One of these rock-weighted piles was before the Desert Drug, owned by the late Harry Brott.

SON KENNETH BROTT was inside the store waiting on customers when he noticed this man, unwise in the ways of Palm Springs, remove the rock to freeload on the headlines.

Before Kenny could yell "Put down that rock," probably thinking "or I'll heave it at you," that day's profit on newspapers was on its way.

All the way to Ramon Road and points beyond.

And there were few curbside palms in those days to impede their flight.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

The wine grape harvest is nearly here. And in the valleys north of my home, the vine leaves are green and gold with grapes.

I am invited to come up and help them jump on grapes this fall. And they couldn't have asked for a winier fellow.

I AM A MEMBER of the Confrerie des Chevaliers du Tastevins. This translates directly as the Brotherhood of Knights of Wine-tasting. It is a French society, dedicated to scoffing the wines of Burgundy.

I am not sure of my part in this affair. But I was duly elected after making a Knightly speech at our annual meeting at Nuits-St. George.

"I like Burgundy," I said, "because I hear it goes well with women and song."

Everybody who could, got up and cheered.

I WILL WEAR my ribbon when I go up to leap on grapes. All us Knights are issued ribbons for our buttonholes. It is red-and-yellow and has a tiny wine-tasting cup on it.

The main value of this ribbon is to overawe the waiter.

The waiter reaches under the counter and comes up with a jug of California "Dewlips."

At this point you finger your ribbon. "Wadaminnit. Wadaminnit. What YEAR is that Dewlips?"

THIS SETS THE jockey back on his elevators. He is non-plussed in a word. In a French word. Or he should be, blast it.

With such a ribbon you should have them fawning iver you at "21." Or the Pump Room. Or any such Social Register saloon.

This has not happened to me.

I ORDER THE POUILLY-Fuisse. The waiter brings me Pouilly-Fume.

"The same thing, sir," he sneers.

"Thank you, sir," I say. I am a Knight. But I am a cowardly Knight.

One thing we learn at Knight school is to chew our wine. We must chew it like a rabbit—you know, you wiggle your lips and your nose.

Then you eject it.

AT THE CELLARS in Nuits-St. George, we eject it on the floor.

I should report that if you do this at "21," one of the Kriendlers will come over and rub your nose in it. In Class A spots it is better to chew and swallow.

You chew and chew. (Closing the eyes while chewing is more impressive.) You may then comment:

"Smooth to the palate and you can taste the grape." (Safe comment.)

"SLIGHTLY PAST its maturity but retains the glory." (For odd-number years before 1950.)

"Shows all evidence of becoming a grand win. But we must wait until next year." (Anything after 1956.)

"A surprising grape. Not distinguished but unusual for ordinaire." (Anything you dont recognize by the label.)

"Beaucoup de bouquet!" (The French gambit.)

OH, WE HAVE wonderful sayings when we Knights get together. Belting the red and cutting up touches on the grapevine.

We talk about temperatures. And why fish prefer to be eaten with white wine.

I imagine they would give us Knights helmets and armor. Except it would be hard to drink wine through the visor

ANYWAY, I INTEND to wear my ribbon when I go up to caper on the grapes.

When I splash among the Sauvignon and trample on the Traminer.

A barefoot Bacchus with vine leaves in the hair and a ribbon in the buttonhole. A Knight to remember.

EARL WILSON: It All De-Pants On Me

LAS VEGAS — I'm sitting in 110-degree heat beside the swimming pool at the new Stardust Hotel—and my problem, Mr. Anthony, is, can I write a column while my bathing pants are dripping?

Gosh, these pants are wet in the back! Over there on a beach chair are Harold Lloyd and his son Duke, the singer, and their pants aren't wet. Of course they haven't been in. Robert Q. Lewis, who, speaking of pants, is panting to do remakes of Harold Lloyd's great films, was with Lloyd here a couple days ago when a middle-aged woman fan came up to him, and, looking right at Lewis, said, "Mr. Lloyd, I saw your pictures years ago and you haven't changed a bit." So Robert Q. looks more like Harold Lloyd now than he does.

These pants are still wet in the rear. Over there on another beach chair is Mrs. John Bromfield, pretty blonde wife of TV's Sheriff of Cochise. He went to St. Louis to see his new sponsor, Augie Busch.

She's in a two-piece job, and speaking of pants, Mrs. Bromfield —her professional name is Larri Thomas—exclaimed to me about how great these new foam rubber fanny falsies must be for the girls who need them to look good in sack dresses and bathing suits.

"They must be wonderful at ball games!" she said. "You carry your own cushion right with you."

Still speaking of pants, Mrs. Bromfield doesn't require fanny falsies, nor does Marilyn Maxwell, whom I saw hereabouts. Marilyn is going into El Rancho Vegas shortly—and was in town auditioning hairdressers. "I always carry my hairdresser with me, but she can't make this trip, so I've got to get a special one," she said. Marilyn carries her hairdresser with her—and George Jessel carries his hairpiece(s) with him.

Yes, it sure is funny how many important people you can meet while you're sitting in wet pants. Nick the Greek, the famous gambler, recovered from a recent illness, dropped by . . . Tommy McDonnell, the host here at the Stardust . . . Benay Venuta and her husband, Fred Clark, over from Beverly Hills . . . and even Pinky Lee, who is amazing everybody with his sensational show at the Dunes, where he exhibits talents most of us never knew he had.

And Pinky asks if I heard what happened to the space ship that arrived in Central Park in New York. One of the littlemen got out and said, "Take me to your leader."

"So what happened?" said Pinky. "They got mugged."

Just a minute. These pants are dry!

Time to get them wet again.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y.

Comics Allen and DeWood were told to delete a 'Goldfine-in-the-sky" gag routine from their act at a gov't-owned theater in Washington . . . Elvis Presley's grandfather, Jess Presley, got a recording contract . . . Lawrence Welk will give a Carnegie Hall concert . . . A local agent's planning a TV spectacular, budgeted at more than $250,000, for Brigitte Bardot — if only 'she'll OK it.

Tickets to the Floyd Paterson title bout will be sold via Diners Club cards . . . Cafe de Paris showgal Chickie James' newest gift from a socialite admirer is a $5,000 bracelet . . . Nancy Sinatra talked continuously about Frank at a party, and finally one guest asked innocently, "Frank who?" . . . Dagmar underwent minor surgery, is recuperating at home . . . Singer Susan Silo, 16, being discussed for Frank Loesser's next B'way show.

The late Martha Boswell's estate is estimated at $250,000 . . . While N.Y. was sweltering last week, more than 65 Christmas albums were recorded here . . . Dawn Addams' husband, Prince Vittorio Massimo, wants her to quit movie-making, but she'll do another . . . Mickey Hargitay, Jayne's honey, is a contender for the "Tarzan" role when Gordon Scott graduates to bigger things . . . Gina Lollobrigida's next film will be about U.S. gangsters deported to Italy.

EARL'S PEARLS—

Ima Washout offers this travel tip: "The sirloin steak costs at least $1.50 more if the headwaiter's name is Henri instead of Henry."

WISH I'D SAID THAT:

To some men the ideal summer vacation is two weeks in the country—for the wife and kids.

MIKE CONNOLLY: Natalie Back on Payroll

HOLLYWOOD — Natalie Wood went back on the payroll after a 12-week layoff for refusing to do one picture for her Warner Bros. bosses — and went right back on suspension the next day for refusing to let the studio loan her to Universal to play Rock Hudson's leading lady in "This Earth Is Mine."

Natalie told the Bros. Warner: "I am giving up acting" . . . Translation: "I want a raise."

THERE'S A STORY in the September issue of Movieland Magazine titled 'My Memories of Elvis from Dates to Draft, by His Best Friend, Cliff Gleaves." Best friend, my foot. This is the same guy, one of Sir Swivel's erstwhile chums from Memphis, who was bounced off the "King Creole" set by Elvis for demanding a raise — "because I've given you the best years of my life!"

Kim Novak is driving her business manager nuts and herself broke by buying expensive gifts for this boy friend and that, all gift-carded in lavender ink . . . Ex-pug Slapsy Maxie Rosenbloom, who has caressed many a canvas, claims the movies can buy his autobiography but he will insist on retaining certain rights—the canvas-back rights!

FOR ONCE SOMEBODY topped Marilyn Monroe. Marilyn arrived three hours late at the combined birthday party tossed by Louella Parsons for Jimmy McHugh, Sy Bartlett, Hernando Courtright, Sammy Friedman and your faithful correspondent —but Judy Garland went her one better by arriving five hours late!

A flock of other singers showed up for our party — including Dinah Shore, Dean Martin, Tony Martin, Tommy Sands, Sammy Davis, Jr., and Pat Boone—but it was Judy who was elected by unanimous vote to sing "Happy Birthday."

DR. TOM ("DELIVER Us from Evil") Dooley had Jeanette MacDonald had this reporter rolling on the floor with his story of screening "Tarzan" movies for the native patients of his jungle hospital in Laos. "They never heard the word 'Ungawa' before until they heard Tarzan say it," said Dr. Tom. "Now they all say it!"

The 31-year-old Dr. Tom had this to tell us about his first visit to his idol, Dr. Albert Schweitzer, in the Congo:

"HE IS A GREAT man and I like everything about him except his refusal to destroy any form of life, because that includes the insects that spread the jungle diseases he's trying to cure. If it wasn't his beloved insects that kept me awake all night during my visit it was the Dr. himself, playing Bach's Toccata and Fugue at 4 in the morning!"

Dr. Tom is visiting Hollywood at the behest of movie producers who want to make a movie of his new book, "The Edge of Tomorrow."

CHANNEL CHATTER — Ethel Merman (another party, another night) got up to sing "There's No Business Like Show Business." Dean Martin (kidding of course) got up and hollered "String her up!" So when it came Dean's turn to sing, Ethel gave the signal to the orchestra to play another tune — whereupon Ethel gave the signal to all the guests to get up and dance, and dance they did — all over poor Dean's carefully rehearsed songs. The guy never did get to go on!

Next activity by the House UnAmerican Activities Committee, I hear, will be to crack at the Madison Avenue boys — because a grand total of 75 per cent of the TV scripters they've hired to write such big shows as Playhouse 90 have been involved with commie-front organizations.

ZIV TV PRODUCTIONS and Wendell Corey, star of the series, started snapping at one another so Harbor Command is Kaput, But Kompletely Kaput!

National Association for Better Radio and TV kept tab for a solid week and totted up 223 killings on Hollywood's seven local telestations, plus 60 justifiable homicides, two suicides, 192 attempted murders, 83 robberies, 15 kidnapings, 24 conspiracies to commit murder, 21 jailbreaks, seven attempted lynchings, six dynamitings, 11 extortions, two cases of arson and two cases of physical torture. Peace, it's wonderful.

PAT BOONE'S NEW Bel-Air bungalow has a nice, fancy projection room in it (matter of fact, he discovered it only after he bought the place!) So Pat, who has never seen Sir Swivel in action alive or on film asked 20th-Fox for prints of Presley's pictures so that he can see what all the shouting's about.

Milton Berle, who hit 50 July 12, treats himself to a three-minute sniff of oxygen immediately following each of his exhausting performances at El Rancho in Las Vegas.

ROSEMARY CLOONEY, expecting again in October, is wild about The Sack. Rosie's rave: "After four years and four youngsters, the styles have finally caught up with ME!"

Ben Blue says the new private golf course he built for himself is so small he has to yell "Three!"

Six Delegates Attend City Of Hope Fete

Palm Springs delegates attended the 45th anniversary celebration of the City of Hope, observed this week during the institution's Pacific Coast Regional Conference at the Los Angeles Ambassador Hotel.

Representatives from the Village chapter of the City of Hope contributed $1,500 in the roll call of regional chapters, which ended with a total contribution of $795,000. The Palm Springs chapter has contributed $6,500 for this year.

Villagers present at the anniversary program were Chapter President Fae Brezin and delegates Pearl Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gholstin and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stone. Also in attendance was Mrs. H. Walders, of Palm Springs, who is director of community organizations for City of Hope.

Olive Hadden Given USN Commission

Mrs. Olive Ogden Hadden, a Palm Springs nurse, has received a reserve commission in the United States Navy, the Navy Department reported today.

The new Naval officer is the wife of Courtland E. Hadden, of 1733 East Amado.

Presently employed at the Palm Springs Medical Clinic, Mrs. Hadden graduated from St. Luke's Nurses Training School at San Francisco in 1942.

Her commission as a reserve officer was presented at the Office of Naval Officer Procurement in Los Angeles.

Barbecue Held By Panorama Estates Group

Ranchers at picturesque Palm Desert Panorama Estates staged a poolside barbecue this week at their pool and sports corral.

Party goers were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gray and daughter, Julie May and guests, Anne and Helen Coates, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foster, and family Mr. and Mrs. William Spork, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kenneth Coates, and guests Shirley Thomas, Dick Kirby, Clifton Davenport and Luther Jackson, from Los Angeles.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Don Walker, and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hughes Mr. and Mrs. Forest White, Mrs. Joan Wyman, Mrs. Ruth Carlton and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stanley.

Lyons Leave For Home in Ore.

Mrs. James A. Lyons and children have left their Smoke Tree Ranch residence for their summer home in Coos Bay, Ore. Mrs. Lyons plans to return here in time for school opening in September.

Mrs. Lyons will have her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Parker, of Palm Springs as houseguests at the Coos Bay home in August.

New Fashion Trends Shown In New York

By MRS. HENRY FRANK
Special Sun Representative

As Maurice Chevalier sings in "Gigi" — "Thank heaven, for little girls," the New York dress designers may very well chorus, "Without them what would all of us do?"

This is National Press Week of the New York Dress Institute, and over 200 newspaper fashion editors from all over the country have traveled to New York to attend the showings of the couture collections for fall, and report to their papers what is new in American design and what will soon be shown in the stores.

We're stopping at the Waldorf-Astoria, which is also the scene of most of the showings. However, five of the designers have invited us to their 7th Avenue showrooms and it should be interesting to get a first hand feeling of the fascinating dress market.

The first day on the agenda featured designers Pauline Trigere, Davidow, Monte-Sano and Pruzan, Herbert Sondheim, Paul Parnes, Christian Dior, New York and Hannah Troy. I'll write about these collections tomorow with highlights of their collections.

If you're one of those who couldn't — or wouldn't — wear a chemise or a trapeze, or a bubble sewn on double, your protests, or maybe those of your husband, have not gone unheeded. Baggy outlines, bizarre effects and maternal middles have been ruled out by the idea of 'shapes with shape," and the new clothes are figure flatterers that do things for you and will please your man.

We're told to watch for . . . the full, high-waisted silhouette of the Directoire. As the models paraded on the platform before us, I could imagine how Josephine charmed Napoleon with such feminine gowns — they're utterly enchanting, these raised waistlines, slightly front fitted with looser backs.

Also making an appearance are the full skirted fashions, again front fitted with flared back of the era of Madame de Pompadour —both themes launched last season by American designers, and now stressed for Fall.

Watch for . . . the bosom more emphasized, the waistline placed high, sometimes very low, and at times where nature put it. Watch for . . . bulky materials with no weight at all, such as mohair tweeds: shown also are exquisite chantilly lace, crinkled chiffons, warp printed satins, and non-tarnishable metallics.

Watch for the colorama to continue. There are almost no pale pastels. Pinks and blues have neon brightness reds and greens and mid-blues are vivid. Sunflower yellow has replaced orange for evening. Violet and purple are important.

Wool daytime costumes or walking suits as some designers call them, have reimbroidered lace heart warmers (an abbreviated high waisted effect blouse) in colors dyed to match the wool suit the latter featured by Sondheim, who said, "All clothes are sculptured to show the figure, but are loose and ladylike in fit."

After the first day's collections were shown, we attended a champagne cocktail party given by the Watchmakers of Switzerland, and between drinks, attractive models male and female, went from table to table showing the latest in watches.

In the evening, we attended a hilarious comedy, "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With," starring Mary Healy and Peter Lind Hayes.

New Grace Missionary Home Starts

Guests from Palm Springs, Riverside, San Bernardino, Chicago and Saskatoon, Canada, attended dedication ceremonies for the new Grace Missionary Home at Yucaipa this week.

Conducted outdoors, under the light of decorative Japanese lanterns, the ceremonies were conducted by Rev. and Mrs. Bernhard Buss, missionaries on furlough from Japan.

Mrs. Buss, whose home church is the Palm Springs Community Church, is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Wade Pinckney, longtime Village area residents, who are the first residents of the new missionary home.

Rev. and Mrs. Buss have been serving in Japan under the Evangelical Alliance Mission, headquartered in Chicago.

The Grace Missionary Home, culmination of more than 15 years of planning, will serve furloughed missionaries needing rest and recuperation, Mrs. Buss said.

Savings, Loan Home Loans Set Record in June

June home loan recordings of California's savings and loan associations were greater than any month in the history of the business, Robert R. Sprague, president of the California Savings and Loan League, revealed today.

Mortgage loans made by the thrift and home-financing institutions last month amounted to $195 million, for a total of $920 million during the first six months of this year.

THE LARGE AMOUNT of home loan recordings during May and June brings the savings associations' loan volume for 1958 up to within 1½ per cent of last year's record volume, Sprague commented.

According to the league president, savings and loan commitments, reflecting loans negotiated, but not yet closed, are 50 per cent greater than they were a year ago. As of April, 1958, loan volume of savings associations was running nearly 14 per cent below 1957.

HOWEVER, BASED on the amount loaned the past two months, 1958 mortgage recordings by the savings and loan business should not only reach the 1957 figure, but should go over last year's record $1,800,000,000.

"The capacity of the savings and loan associations to increase their loan volume is greater this year than last year because the net increase in savings received from the public is almost 29 per cent more than a year ago, and loan repayments are running 10 per cent over the first six months of 1957," Sprague said.

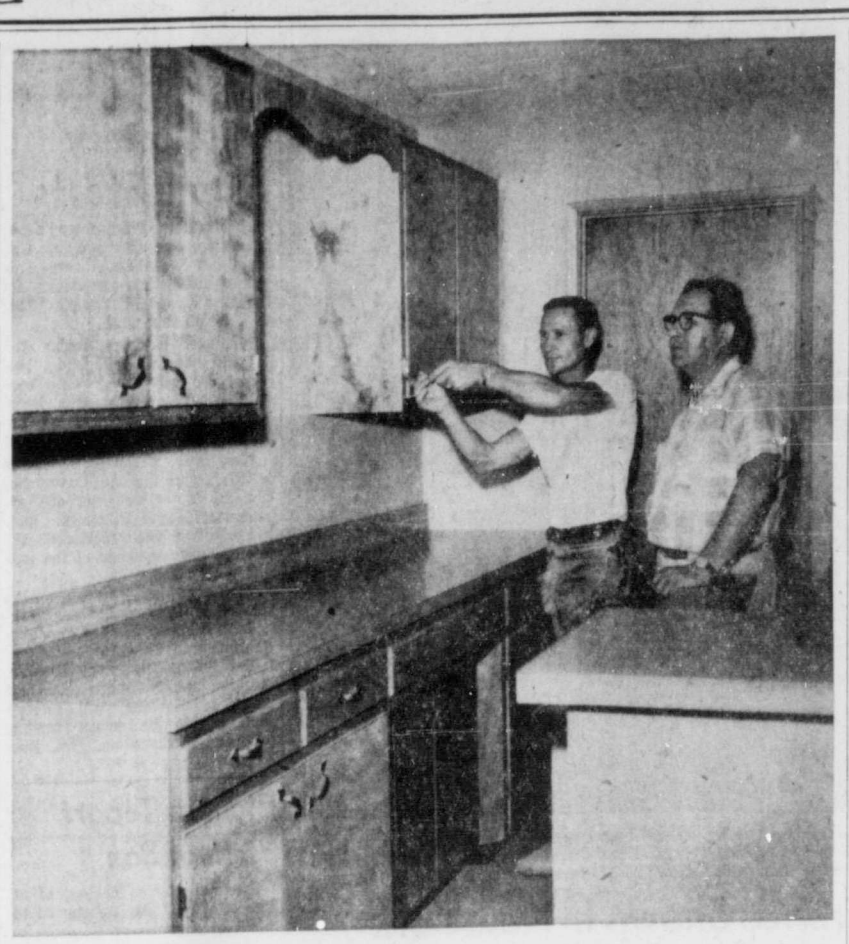
Furniture makers are enlarging on the cereal box cut-out system with an eye toward attracting the kiddies as boosters.

One firm which makes mattresses and sofa beds now ships them via common carrier in individual "play house" cartons.

A door window complete with blooming flower pot and a white picket fence outline are painted on the front.



EXPERT CRAFTSMANSHIP is reflected in the cabinet work of the recently opened Palm Springs shop of Woodcraft of California. D. D. Paul, well known desert area craftsman and foreman of the shop, puts the finishing touches on this artful display as Morrie Kozlen, shop operator, looks on. The cabinets pictured here are of solid birch in natural finish, typical examples of the custom-made products in which Woodcraft of California specializes. A complete cabinet and store fixture shop, Woodcraft has one of the desert area's largest selections of woods of all descriptions, foreign and domestic, Kozlen said. Supervised by Paul, formerly associated with Darwin Enterprises, Woodcraft of California's Village shop has a full staff of expert craftsmen, Kozlen noted. Kozlen invited inspection of the Woodcraft facilities at 666 Williams Road. (Desert Sun Photo).

Gardening in the Desert

Locally, as the thermometer goes higher and higher, the amateur gardener finds his monthly water bill go higher and higher. However, there's little he can do about it without curbing his enthusiasm. Insufficient water means poor and sometimes decaying plants.

At this time of the year roses and other cut flowers should be watered each morning and evening to ensure good root growth. Two inches of peat moss will help by deteriorate evaporation and probably save some of the water bill.

OCCASIONALLY SAWDUST and shavings are used for this purpose but care should be taken that these are changed from time to time as they sometimes form a solid cake and defeat their purpose.

Curling leaves on your poinsettias and citrus trees are a guidance to your watering system they indicate a shortage of water around their root systems. Keep an eye on these helpful indicators with temperatures running between 110 and 125 degrees you might find filling the basins twice a week inadequate.

BEAR IN MIND that our dry winds contribute almost as much as the sun to drying the ground, depending on the condition of the ground in which the plant is growing. A year round lawn, be it of lipia, zoysia, dicondra, bermuda or other grass, give the length of the root a thought and decide on a morning and evening watering.

As a safeguard to watering and if you are in any way doubtful, occasionally test the soil by forcing your shovel into the soil at right angle to the trupk. If the soil is dry your shovel will come out clean and you have insufficient water.

WATERING OF LAWNS may be done with an installed sprinkler system, a movable sprinkler, or a hand sprinkler, whichever you feel is most efficient. However, none of these systems should be used where you have basins, large, medium, or small.

At present slow filling of the larger basins is advisable thereby giving the water plenty of time to sink below the trees root system. Some experts advise filling the basins once, waiting for the water to disappear, then refilling the basins. We find this an efficient system at this time of the year. In cooler weather this system might prove harmful to some trees, especially so to citrus.

THE USE OF A HAND sprinkler to water roses and other plants where you have a basin is inadvisable for several reasons. Mainly, watering with a hand sprinkler you cannot avoid breaking down the basin rims thereby giving yourself extra labor.

In addition, if you have sprayed your plants with insecticide, an excellent idea at this time of the year, you wash the powder off before it has had an opportunity to operate and you have to duplicate your labors.

ON THE LOCAL market there is the handiest of watering gadgets, an aluminum tube that is attached to the hose and which allows you to water expertly without bending over and without getting wet. We have found this method of watering basins and troughs very efficient and easy to handle; the cost is reasonable.

Another handy instrument, also obtainable at local nurseries, is a bulb-like tool. This is screwed directly to the hose and used mostly in larger basins, both of these gadgets do not dig holes in the basins or disturb their shapes as the full force of a hose would.

Donaheys to Take Trip to Hawaii

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Scheduled to take off on a flying trip to Hawaii this week are Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Donahey, owners of the Valley Vista Motel, 66-550 Two Bunch Palms Road.

The Donaheys plan to visit Hawaii and its neighboring islands before returning home. Donahey visited Hawaii many times in the past as a marine engineer, but this is his first trip as a "tourist."

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

HAVERTOWN, Pa. — (UPI) — Fearless Fraley's reflections on sports in general at the PGA golf championship:

There are at least four golfers on the tour who could be the playing pro at the Hartford retreat.

Golf writers who can't fracture 100 are prone to knock the pro who shoots a 79.

AUSTRALIANS ARE fast swimmers because the sharks ate all the slow ones.

You couldn't keep Joe DiMaggio out of my all-time outfield.

Women may be better putters than men, as claimed, but I'd rather know a doll who can bake a good lemon meringue pie.

Many of the pros at the PGA are steamed at Ben Hogan because he didn't appear for this tournament even though invited.

IF NINO VALDES is the best heavyweight challenger, Floyd Patterson might as well retire.

If they ever get night flat racing, it'll drive the U. S. mint out of business as a money-maker.

I don't see that it's anybody's business but baseball's if the Senators want to move out of Washington.

Baseball is a business and when a team draws 3,000 for a Sunday double header it might as well go somewhere where it's wanted.

SHOTPUTTER PARRY O'Brien the male Sophia Loren, is one of the best built athletes you'll ever see.

Just to move in on Nostradamus, if you wait long enough you'll see a major league franchise in Alaska.

One of the pros at the PGA says he always takes his wife along because he can't stand to kiss her goodbye.

"She has," said another, "a face like a freshly - raked sand trap."

IN THIS DAY OF power tennis, the lob is almost as extinct as the dinosaur.

When a golf tournament is over, the course usually has more scars than Sergeant York.

Sam Snead still is the best gallery draw in golf and could give lessons to flies around a barrel of honey.

Ryne Duren's speed scares me even when I cower behind the batting screen.

CROQUET STANDS in a class with backgammon for my limited dough, and if that ain't cricket you can have that, too.

The best drop kicker I ever saw was a bouncer in a Louisville nightclub.

Score Thursday
M&M-Lehrfeld 11, PD Jr. Chamber 0.

Bill Tichenor struck out 17 batters in the first six innings at the Polo Grounds last night before he was relieved by Ken Aguilar in the seventh inning. His M&M-Lehrfeld team meanwhile was smashing the Palm Desert Junior Chamber of Commerce 11-0.

It was a great night for Tichenor and had he been allowed to continue to pitch he would have stood a chance to equal Neal Green's record of 20 strikeouts in a regular seven inning game.

IN THE SIX INNINGS he pitched only one player, Andy Waterman, was put out any other way than a strikeout. He hit a slow grounder to Tichenor who threw him out at first base.

Joe Mazzula's single was the only hit for Palm Desert, coming in the fourth inning. One man reached base on an error and two more walked.

M&M TALLIED two runs in the first inning and then added five more in the second and were never in trouble. They added one in the third and three in the sixth.

Leading the way was Pat Kelly who singled and tripled, Warren Linville with a single and a double and Bill Tichenor who singled and then hit a two run home run into left field in the sixth frame.

It was the third straight victory for fast rising M&M.

The line score:

Little League Playoffs Start Here Tonight

Palm Springs, Banning and Beaumont tangle in a "sudden death" playoff, starting tonight, to determine the champions for the 1958 Little League district, who will go on to regional competition.

The Village and Beaumont teams meet in the playoff opener at 8 p.m. today at the Polo Grounds diamond.

Banning Little Leaguers, who drew a "bye", will play the winner of tonight's game Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Optimistic Pass area Leaguers are feeling their strength and believe they can "go all the way."

But Palm Springs managers Jim Schilling and Dick De Long are sporting smug expressions after the first three practice games. They're only comment is that "Palm Springs players will give a good account of themselves."

The Village Little League lineup includes John Bunker, John Aitcheson, Dick Curnutt, Jim Hopp, Ezell James, Raymond Lewis, Jim Marinko, Mickey Morrison, Jerry Olivera, Paul Payne, Ernie Reyes, David Starich, Cliff Thalis and Dennis Waterworth.

Krause Traded Again

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Lions have traded tackle Ray Krouse to the Baltimore Colts for an undisclosed draft choice next year. Krouse originally had been traded to Green Bay, but the deal was nullified when he refused to report because it was too far from his Washington, D.C.

Cards Are Losing, But Stan Musial Keeps Setting Marks

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

What appears to be a year of defeat for the St. Louis Cardinals is almost certain to be one of towering triumph for Stan Musial.

The Cardinals seem to be drifting out of the National League race but there's no stopping Stan The Man who already has passed two milestones this season and has three more major goals within his grasp.

MUSIAL, WHO earlier in the season joined the select group of players with 3,000 career hits, passed Lou Gehrig on the list of the greatest extra - base hitters when he blasted two homers in Thursday's 8-7 loss to the Milwaukee Braves.

His career total of 1,191 extra base hits is surpassed only by the 1,356 hammered out by the king of all sluggers, Babe Ruth.

THE SAN FRANCISCO Giants came up with another of their sensational late-inning rallies, so reminiscent of 1954, to remain a half-game behind the Braves with an 8-7 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Giants went into the last of the ninth training, 7 - 5, but tied the score on rookie Orlando Cepeda's two - run double and won it when relief ace Dick Farrell wild - pitched the winning run across with the bases filled and one out.

The Cincinnati Redlegs snapped a seven - game losing streak when they beat the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, and the Los Angeles Dodgers scored a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in other National League action.

THE NEW YORK Yankees remained 12 games ahead in the American League when they beat the Detroit Tigers, 4-2.

The Boston Red Sox topped the Kansas City Athletics, 6-2, the Baltimore Orioles shut out the Chicago White Sox, 3-0, and the Cleveland Indians whipped the Washington Senators, 8-3.

Finsterwald Leads by One In PGA Tourney

HAVERTON, Pa. (UPI) — Don Finsterwald, a little guy who hits the ball a mile, paced the field into the second round of the PGA golf championship today with a one-stroke lead and predicted "it" looks like the time I'm going to break my second place jinx."

Finsterwald, who hasn't won a tournament since February, 1957, when he captured the Tucson Open, played it "safe all the way" Thursday when he carded a three-under-par 67 to beat out Jay Hebert by one stroke.

"I've just got the feeling that I'm going to do it," the five-foot ten-inch 160-pounder said. "I'm getting awfully tired of finishing second."

Only seven in the field of 163 golfers were able to crack par.

Grouped with Lionel Hebert at 69 were Dick Mayer, Jimmy Demaret, Felice Torza and Ted Kroll.

CV Grid Practice To Start Early

With only two calendar pages remaining before football season opens in the desert area, the Coachella Valley Athletic Club today announced plans or the start of pre-season training next month.

Dusting off the gridiron for fall, the club has already posted a partial team roster and conjured a new team name for the fall grid schedule.

CLUB PRESIDENT Roy Ramirez said the team has been christened the "Sultans" to avoid confusion with the team of the new Indio high school.

Practice will get under way next month, and Ramirez urged prospective ball players who are not listed on the roster to contact the club via Post Office Box 583, Coachella.

This year's roster lists the following Indio area players:

RAMIREZ, HARRY Dugan, Leo Stephens, Bill Pistole, John Danshack, Frank Rodriguez, Conrad Perez, Norman Still, Dave Wilkie, Daniel Turk, John Dial, Jim Herra, Flo Torres, Len Jost, Lee Martinez, Carmelo Torres.

Logan Cookson, Ray Lundy, Louie Jimminez, Eldon Smith, Jim Emerson, Jim Kirk, Boe Wallace, Charlie Black, Willie White, Rick Reyes, Bud Shurcliff, Don Burkett, Frank Lucia, Keith Gaylor, Mark Hudson, Charles Blankerchief, John Cunningham, Charles Bender, Walter White, Chon Ruiz and Rex Power.

Twentynine Palms players are James Lee, Jerry Mitchell, Larry Erhardt, Gordon K. Settle, Buddy Jones, Robert Flores and Thomas Scott Jr.

Scanlon Favored Over Gale Kerwin

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bobby Scanlon, unbeaten San Francisco lightweight, fights his first Madison Square Garden main event tonight when he meets Canadian Gale Kerwin in a televised and broadcast bout.

Scanlon is favored at 8-5. A victory would extend his unbeaten string to 30 fights, including one draw. Kerwin will have advantages of weight, height and reach. Also, he has had more experience against sturdy opposition.

Dodgers Turn Pitching Tide

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The pitching tide which has been running against the Dodgers this season may have turned, it appeared today.

Rookie Stan Williams won his third straight victory Thursday when the Dodgers defeated the Pirates, 5-3. Tonight, Sandy Koufax takes his turn on the mound against the Phillies after having been laid up two weeks with a sprained ankle.

Merchants Set Game at Paula

Palm Springs Merchants semi-pro baseball team will meet the Paula Indian All Stars at the Paula Reservation outside of San Diego on Sunday afternoon.

Anyone 17 years and older interested in playing for the Merchants is asked to contact John Marinko at the Barn Restaurant, or City Recreation Supt. Howard Haddock at FA 4-1131. The team will leave at 10 a.m., Sunday from the Barn Restaurant.
